ENJOY WHILE FILMING

You can try to find a country like Montenegro but it is quite a futile endeavor. A small country of indescribable magical beauty, abundant in natural beauties of all kinds - the sea, mountains, canyons, rivers, beaches and everything else that links with magnificent, breathtaking or divine, perhaps. In addition to the various natural beauties, Montenegro has glorious cultural heritage representing a testimony of a rich and turbulent past – Roman, medieval, oriental, Venetian, Austro-Hungarian, remains and landmarks that are uniquely intertwined in different regions, allocated in old town units, religious buildings (churches, mosques and cathedrals), and urban areas. In recent years, our country is undergoing a construction process followed by the modern objects and hotels that are difficult to find in the widest possible environment. Montenegro is the country you must visit to witness all the above.

Montenegrin audiovisual sector is on the steady rise, lately, and we welcomed very important productions companies from all over the world. As a great addition to all above, Montenegro is offering you the unbelievable 25% cash rebate on eligible costs. So, what are you waiting for?

This publication will provide you with the key industry information, while the photos will prove the uniqueness of Montenegro and attractiveness of the locations where you can shoot your films and TV shows.

Welcome!

REGIONS

There are three colors present in the Montenegrin landscape: blue, emerald green and iron gray, amazingly combined and interwoven. Because of its priceless natural beauty, Montenegro was proclaimed an ecological state through a special declaration.

The fabulously jagged coastline of the Adriatic Sea offers you the variety of beaches, coves, bays and islets that you have been dreaming of. The reality is even more exotic than the promises found in tourist brochures. The world's southernmost and probably the most celebrated fjord in verse, beautiful Mediterranean Kotor Bay, as well as the whole seacoast, is sheltered and shielded by the karstic mountains: Rumija, Sutomore, Orjen, and Lovćen. In these picturesque karstic areas and in the cultivated Zeta and Bjelopavlici valleys, you will get the essence of Montenegrin mountains. The high mountains like Durmitor, Bjelasica, Komovi, and Visitor can offer you an unforgettable experience with their hidden lakes, numerous pastures, forests, pointed peaks, diverse flora and fauna, fast mountain rivers and imposing canyons.

Coastal Region

The 293 km long coast cherishes the spirit of Mediterranean with its stone walkways, six cities of ancient civilizations, botanical gardens with plants brought by the sailors from different parts of the world, carnival parades and fiestas throughout the whole year. Beaches are famous for their beauty, for being different, and for their curative effects. In summer time the coast is the center of entertainment and cultural events and international musical and film festivals.

Central Region

The Central region or business part of Montenegro with capital Podgorica in its center is a crossroads of businesses, entertainment and relaxation. Whether you will choose natural environment of lakes and mild mountains or urban environment – it is up to you.

Northern Region

When we think of natural beauties of Montenegro first thing that crosses our mind are the sights of the north of Montenegro. Three national parks, Durmitor, Biogradska gora and Prokletije, the vast area of the mount Sinjajevina, deep canyons of the rivers Tara, Piva and Komarnica and numerous gorgeous mountain lakes such as Crno jezero, Kapetanovo, Zminje, Trnovačko, Zabojsko, Biogradsko and Pešića lake will certainly leave every traveler breathless.

NATURE & LANDSCAPES

Generous and miserly, cruel and graceful, fascinating nature of Montenegro has always aroused excitement and inspiration.

“The most beautiful meeting of land and sea at the time of the birth of our planet” (J. G. Byron) has created many small bays and a large Bay of Kotor, hidden wild beaches and a thirteen kilometers long Velika plaža with healing powers.

White and gray waste land of limestone area rises above the coastline. “Sea of rocks” is only one segment of the sumptuous mosaic. In the central region there are the fertile Zetska and Bjelopavlička plains and a bird paradise - Skadar Lake. Then there is a wreath of mountain ranges over 2,000 meters high. Apart from the peaks, they are adorned by woods, spacious pastures, forty lakes, impetuous and clean rivers, deep and mysterious canyons. The worlds of beauty are under water and underground - in many caves whose exploration has only begun. Montenegro has five national parks. Durmitor with the Tara River Canyon is part of the world natural heritage. The Tara River Canyon is on the list of international biosphere reserves. As a rare wetland habitat Skadar Lake is included on the Ramsar List. In 1991 Montenegro was proclaimed ecological state.

Durmitor

National Parks

Five areas in Montenegro have the status of national parks: Lovćen, Durmitor, Biogradska gora, Lake Skadar and Prokletije.

Their natural and cultural values are presented in visitors centers, and opportunities for active recreation are numerous. Besides the marked walking, hiking and biking trails, in the parks you can find thematic, educational and wine paths. There is also sports fishing, cruising, camping, adventure park, rent-a-bungalow...

Conquering peaks, viewing platforms, richness of flora and fauna, healing powers of water wells, herbs, national cuisine... There are many reasons to visit the national parks of Montenegro.

Lakes & Rivers

Mountain lakes are mostly glacier lakes, doomed to slow disappearance.

The largest are Crno jezero (Black Lake), Plavsko and Biogradsko, and as for their beauty the following single out Hridsko, Zabojsko, Zminje, Škrčko, Trnovačko, Pešića Lake... Whether they embraced by coniferous trees or grass, their water is clean and pleasant for swimming in summer, and is always interesting to anglers. There are many legends about emergence of these lakes.

Skadar Lake collects water from the mountains intended for the Adriatic Sea. They are brought to the lake by the rivers Zeta, Cijevna and Morača and conveyed by Bojana to the sea. All others rivers rush to the Black Sea: Tara, Piva, Lim with a wide network of tributaries and streams. Waters are a great wealth of Montenegro: clean, fresh, mostly wild and impetuous, stronger than rock. They etch deep canyons, roll snow and trees, hide big fish, refresh and inspire...

Mountains

They add to a small state a lot of space, height and width, depth and shape.

Each mountain is a story for itself. Bjelasica is tame, Durmitor is unpredictable, Prokletije is the most beautiful mosaic, Sinjajevina is mystical, Orjen is porous, Komovi is proud, Moračke is demanding...

There are springs, streams, rivers, glacier lakes, cliffs and peaks to which clouds are rushing, caves, vast forests, pastures, villages and high mountain summer cottages, herds that graze freely, areas that no one has ever passed through... And all this in four variants, because seasons on the mountain are clearly distinguished. It is also true that snow remains on some mountains in the warmest days of August and then at about 2000 meters above sea level you can swim in the lake – and throw snowballs.

Canyons

The fact that the deepest canyon in Europe is in Montenegro is not accidental at all. This whole area of high mountains is intersected by canyons whose grandeur is breathtaking. Roads pass through some of these and their verticals are well known (Morača, Cijevna, Piva and Ibar). You can discover others like the Tara River Canyon and canyon of the river Lim if you give yourself up to the wild waters, roaring rapids and waterfalls and emerald whirlpools while rafting or kayaking. A little more courage is needed for canyoning.

Synonym for canyoning in Montenegro is the canyon Nevidio, but even more difficult (the coldest and darkest) challenge is the canyon Grlje (Prokletije). Attractive are the canyons Škudre (Kotor) and Trebješice and Bogutovski potok (flows into the river Morača). However, these are only parts of the manuscript of water in the rocks and many have not been seen yet.

Sea and Beaches

The Adriatic Sea is one of the warmest seas and is one of the cleanest and clearest seas rich in marine flora and fauna.

Through the Strait of Otranto it is connected with the central part of the Mediterranean Sea. Its width is greatest between Montenegro and Southern Italy (about 200 kilometers). Contrast of enchanting waters of the Adriatic and gigantic Montenegrin mountains is softened by sandy beaches, sunsets and bays, Mediterranean and tropical plants, pine trees and olive groves and white towns along the coast. The contrast is apparent when you take the road from Kotor up the Lovćen serpentines. Each curve reveals a new, more magnificent, exciting and somewhat frightening view of the Bay of Kotor, "the beauty of beauties", created according to the legend, by the will of the god of the sea, – Poseidon himself.

Flora & Fauna

Interweaving of climate types, permanent rotation of southern and northern air currents make these areas suitable habitat for over three thousand plant species, including many endemic and relict species.

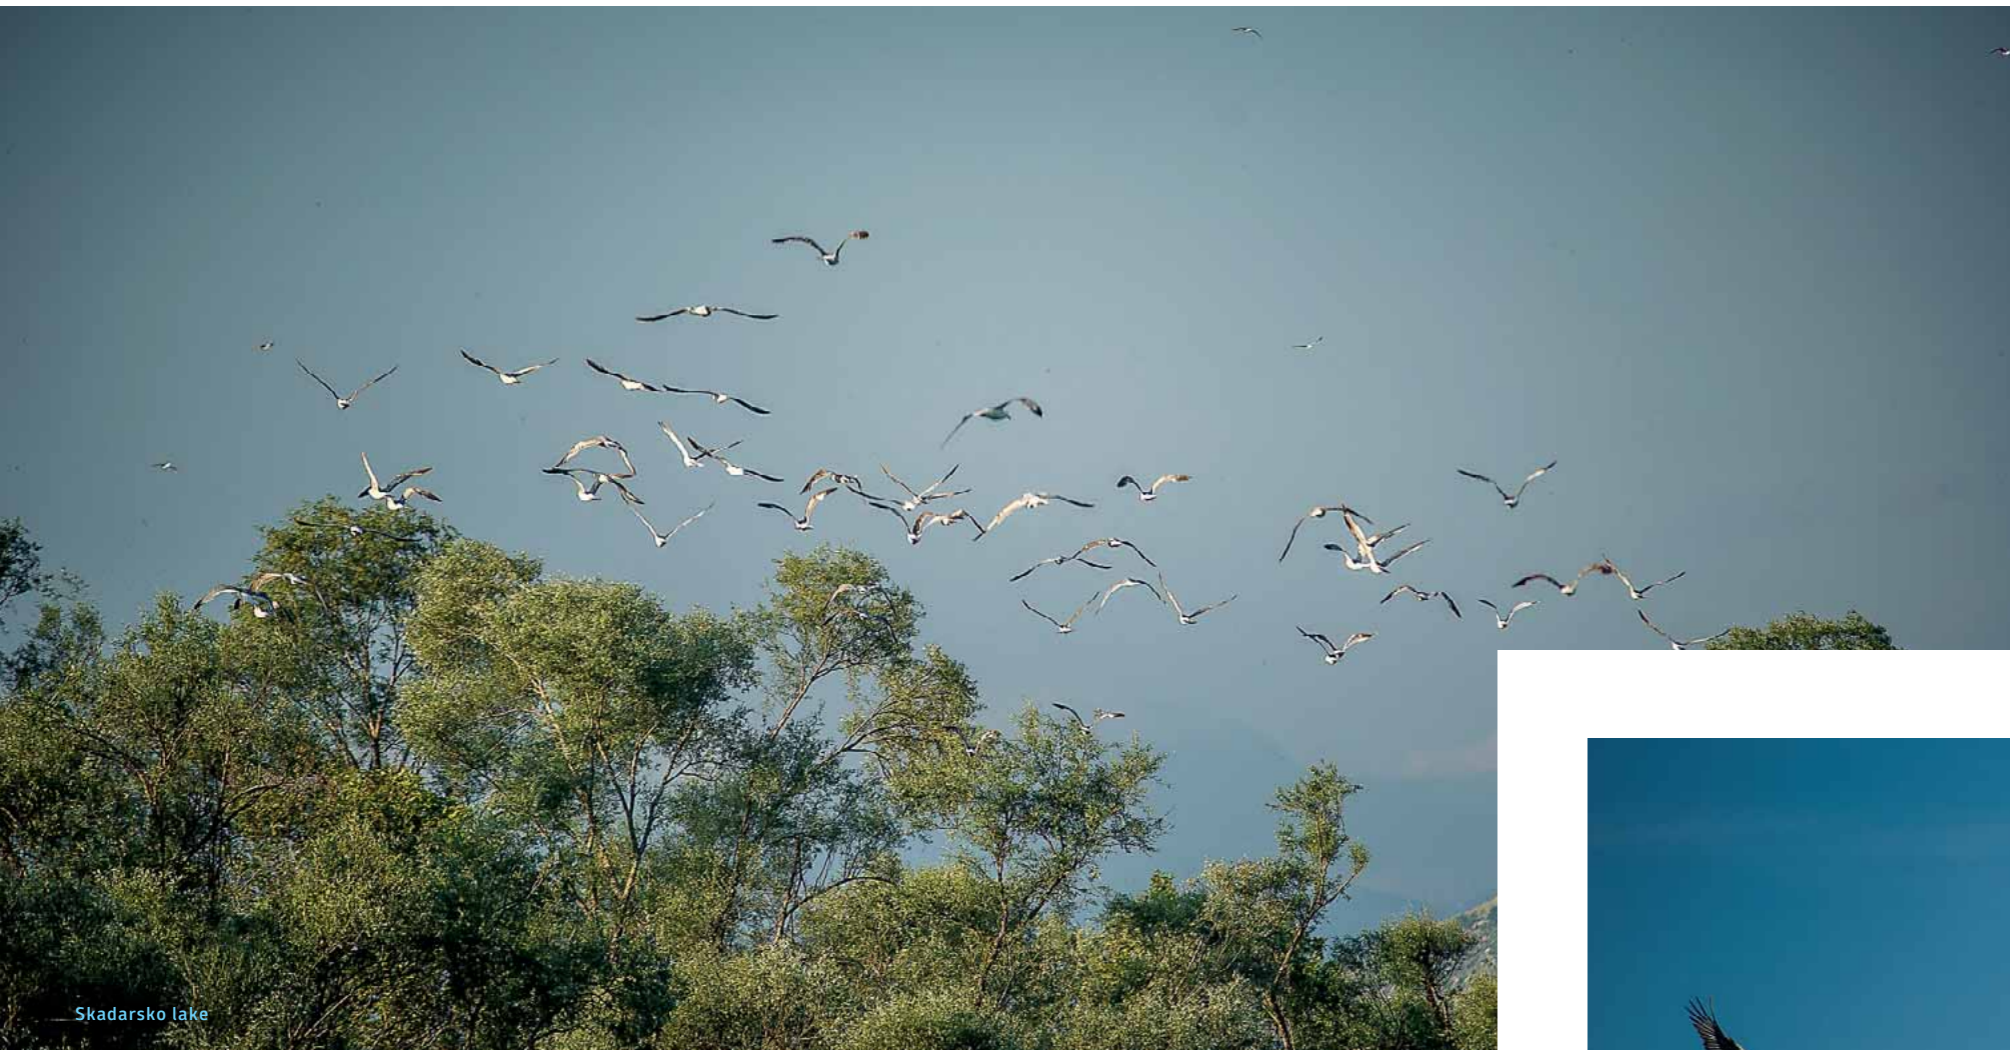

Especially significant is the wealth of medicinal and aromatic herbs, wild fruits and edible fungi. Dark conifer forest (spruce, pine, fir) are credited for the name of the country - Montenegro. This is the home of one of the two European virgin forests - Biogradska gora.

You can find over three hundred animal species, including some that are rare elsewhere. Apart from wolves, bears, chamois, doe, marten and lynx you can find otter, griffon vulture, golden eagle, peregrine falcon, hawk, tufted duck; Apollo butterfly, rocky mole, alpine shrew mouse, common Goldeneye... There are also significant species of amphibians, snakes, lizards, and most interesting is the triton - alpine newt.

OLD TOWNS & TEMPLES

It is hard to resist the charm of medieval towns and fortresses on Montenegrin coast: Budva, Kotor, Risan, Perast, Herceg Novi, Bar, Ulcinj... This is where Byzantine school and Romanesque, Gothic, Baroque waves in architecture, stone sculptures and paintings are touching and interweaving. The city of Kotor is, as part of the world cultural heritage, under UNESCO's protection.

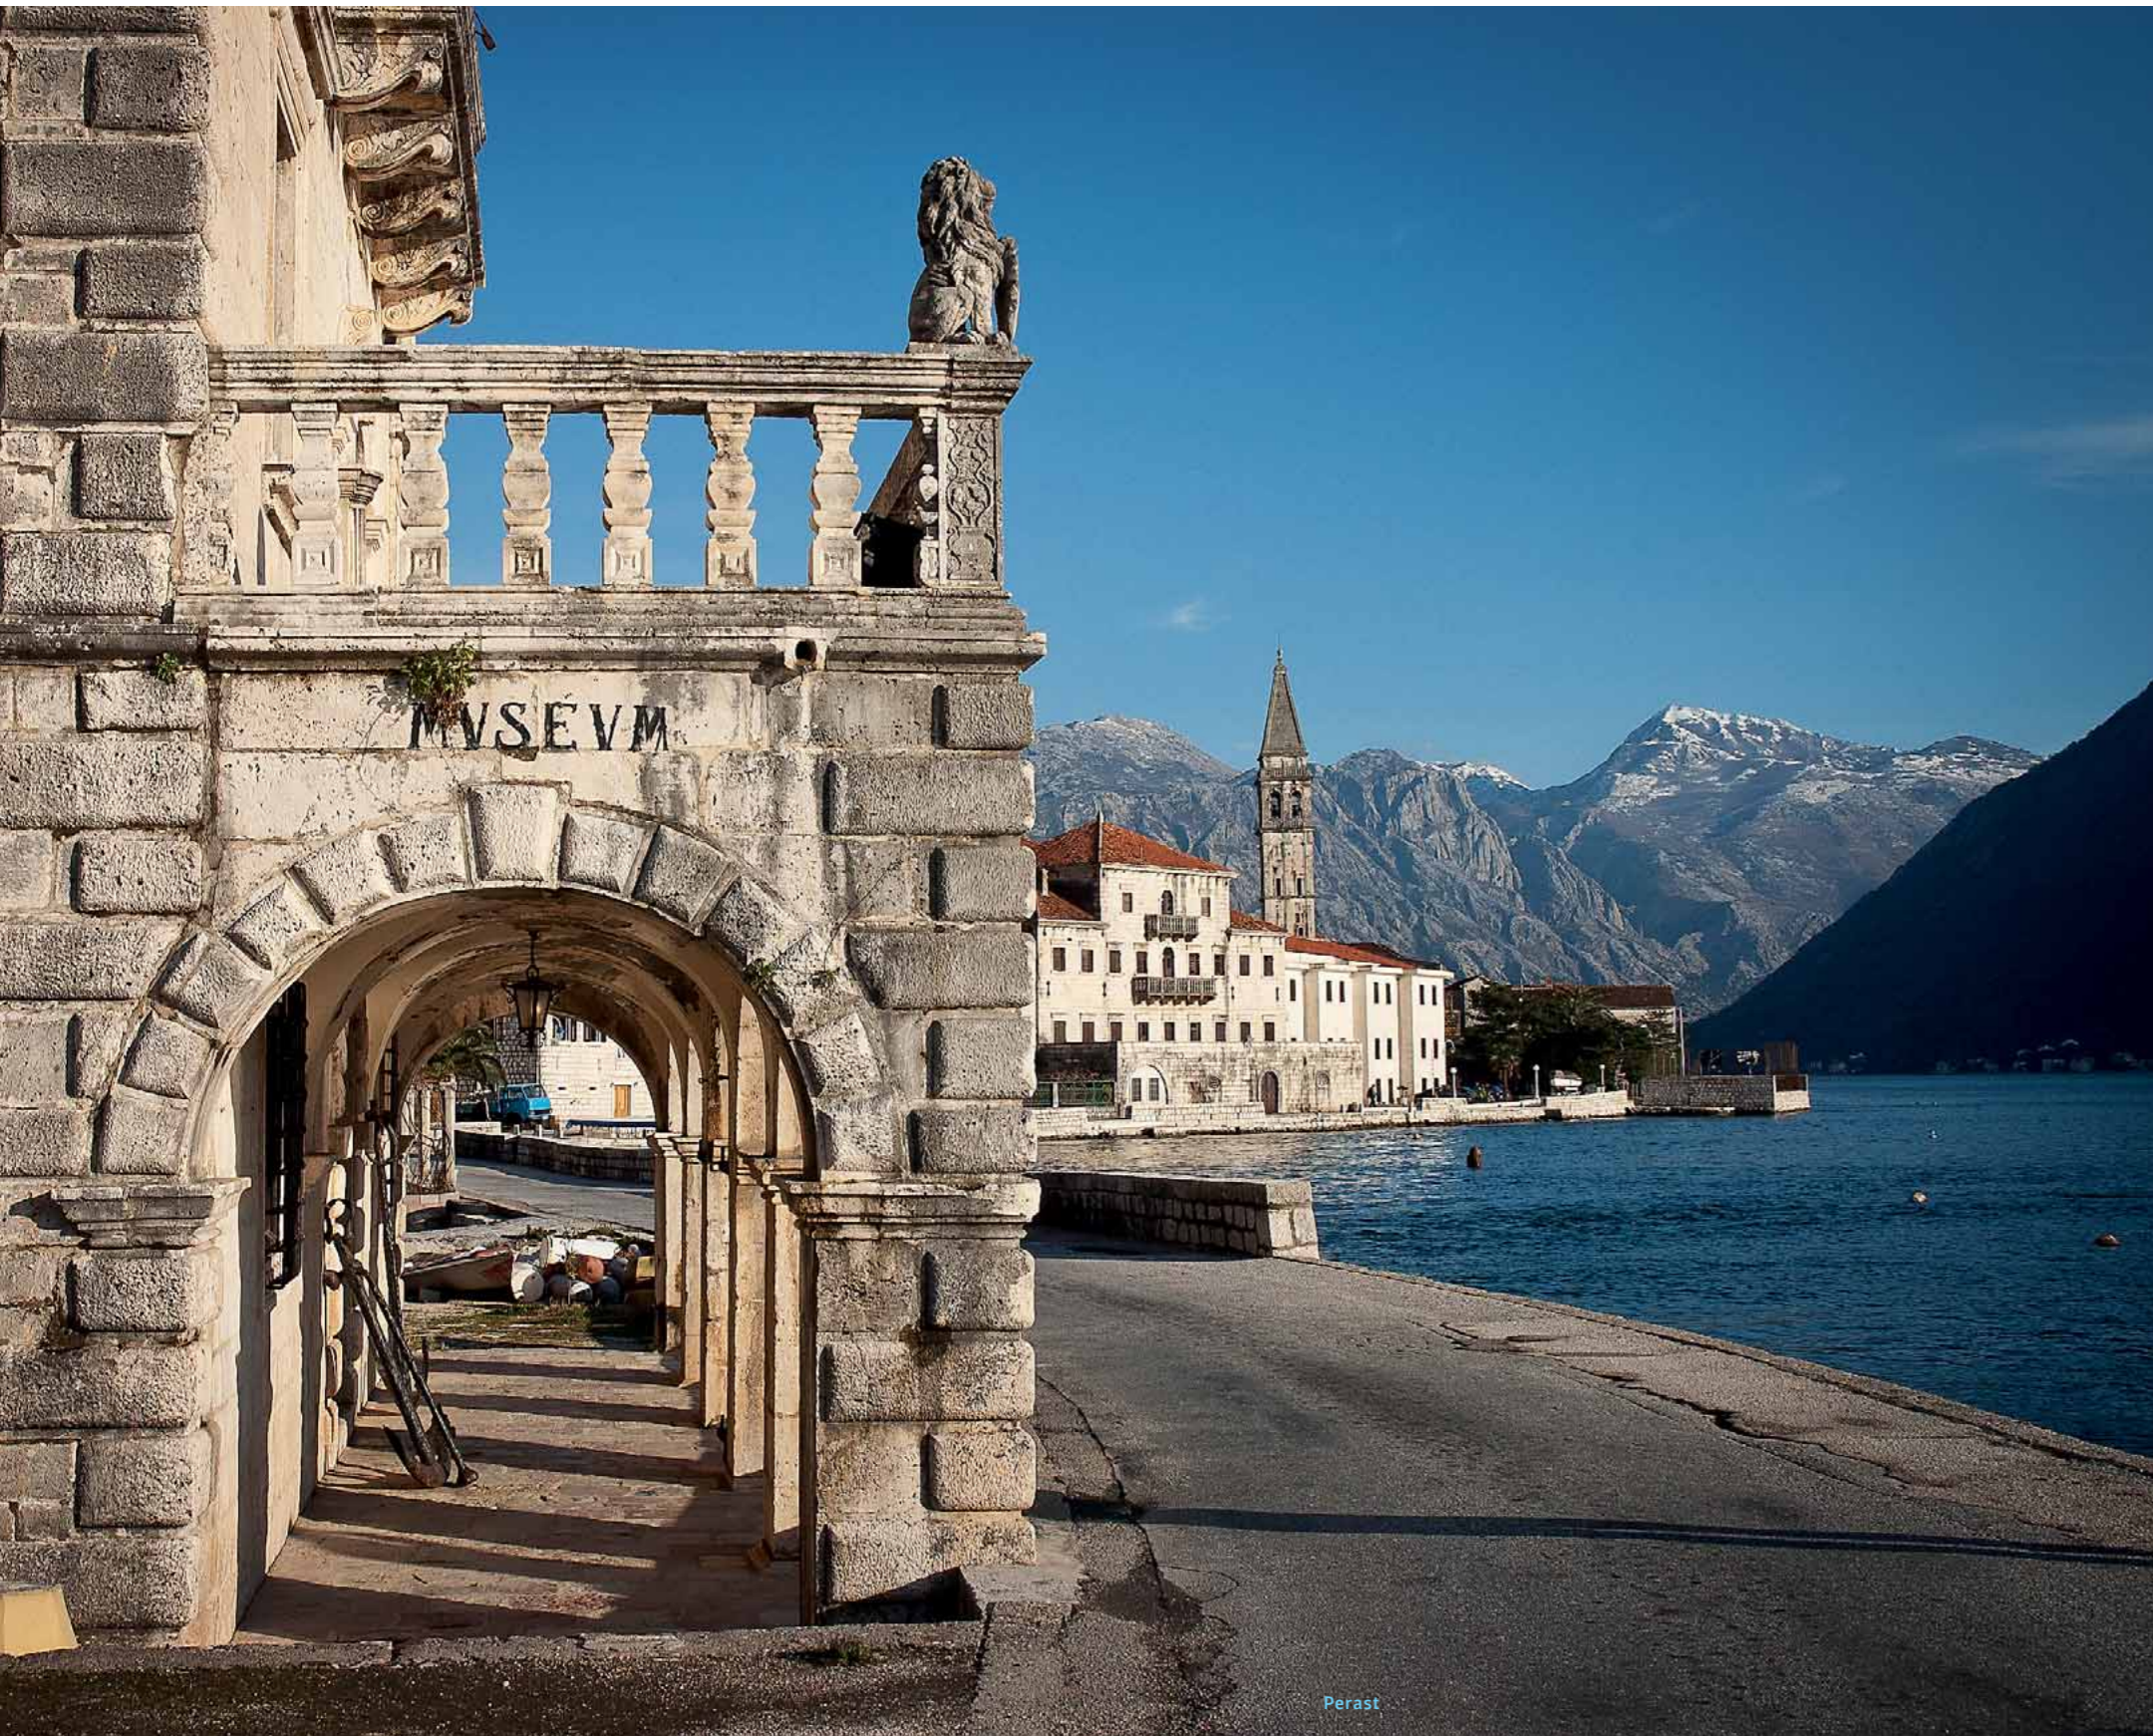

A substantial part of the old religious architecture is also well preserved. The following monasteries single out for their monumentality and beauty: the monasteries of Morača, Piva, Sveta Trojica (Holy Trinity), Đurđevi stupovi, Savina and Ostrog - one of the world's greatest shrines. There are also the Saint Tryphon Cathedral and Gospa od Skrpjela (Church of Our Lady of the Rocks)... As for Islamic religious objects, Husein Pašina Džamija (Hussein-Pasha's Mosque) in Pljevlja stands out for its beauty.

CO-PRODUCTION

Film projects with international partners can benefit from the selective minority co-production support, which is provided by Film Centre of Montenegro through annual calls for development and production of Montenegrin films.

Among several support schemes is a Minority Co-production Scheme that provides funding for projects originating outside Montenegro, but with Montenegrin participation.

Public call for minority co-productions is published annually, and the selection of the project is based on previously established criteria related to the quality and feasibility of the project, as well as the participation of the Montenegrin side.

Films supported through this scheme must be able to qualify as official co-productions, either under bilateral treaties, or the European Convention on Cinematographic Co-production.

CASH REBATE

25% of the qualifying local expenditure

Film Centre of Montenegro offers incentives for foreign producers that intend to film in Montenegro.

2. all taxes, contributions and other fiscal obligations prescribed by law have been previously settled in Montenegro;

PERMITS

Working permits

To obtain a work permit a foreign citizen needs to find a company willing to hire them or to set up their own company. Usually one year work permits are issued. Work permits can be refused if the quota set by the authorities for that year has been exceeded.

Work permit shall be a document on the basis of which the employer may conclude a labor contract or special contract with a foreigner, in accordance with the Law. The Employment Bureau of Montenegro shall issue a work permit for a foreigner. The Ministry in charge of labor affairs shall prescribe the contents of work permit, procedure for issuing and manner of entering the data. The request for issuing a work permit shall be submitted by:

- 1) the foreigner who has the approval for habitual residence in Montenegro;
- 2) the employer for a foreigner who has the approval for temporary residence in Montenegro

The request shall be submitted to the Employment Bureau.

Shooting permits

A foreign producer can make a cinematographic work on the territory of Montenegro independently or in cooperation with a domestic or foreign co-producer, with a previously obtained approval issued by the Ministry of culture of Montenegro.

If the shooting of cinematographic work in a particular location requires special permits, foreign producer or domestic producer on his behalf, are required to obtain such permit by the authorities or organizations designated by special regulations, prior to shooting.

Temporary Import of Professional Equipment

For shooting on the territory of Montenegro, foreign producer may temporarily import equipment necessary for shooting, without the payment of customs duties and taxes, after obtaining the approval of Ministry of culture. Since regaining independence in 2006, Montenegro has embarked on an economic reform and privatization drive that has led to strong economic growth, which exceeded 7% last year. The country is also a candidate for membership in the European Union.

Since 2008, Montenegro has become the 66th country which joined the ATA Carnet System.

The ATA Carnet is a simple international customs document which permits the temporary import in the foreign country. Carnets are issued exclusively by chambers of commerce, members of the ATA international guarantee chain.

With reasonable costs and minimal formalities, the ATA Carnet is issued by the Chamber of Economy of Montenegro. NOTE: The soon you submit the application for issuing the ATA carnet, the soon you will get one. It is recommended that the procedure for getting the carnet start not later than 3 days prior to travel.

Hotels & Amenities

Whether you are looking to book a five-star, or a boutique hotel, hostel or motel, or maybe you prefer to rent a private house or villa, there are a number of local agencies able to arrange individual or group stays. As a popular tourist destination, Montenegro has many moderately priced hotels and restaurants, as well as five-star ones.

As a popular tourist destination, Montenegro has numerous accommodation facilities that will cater all your needs, no matter how specific they are.

In order to get to the heart of Montenegro you shall try the specialties of the national cuisine. The diversity of Montenegrin nature and the ethnographic diversity have left a trace on Montenegrin cuisine. Whether you are dining at your friend's, in an authentic Montenegrin home, or in some restaurant, you shall be cordially welcomed.

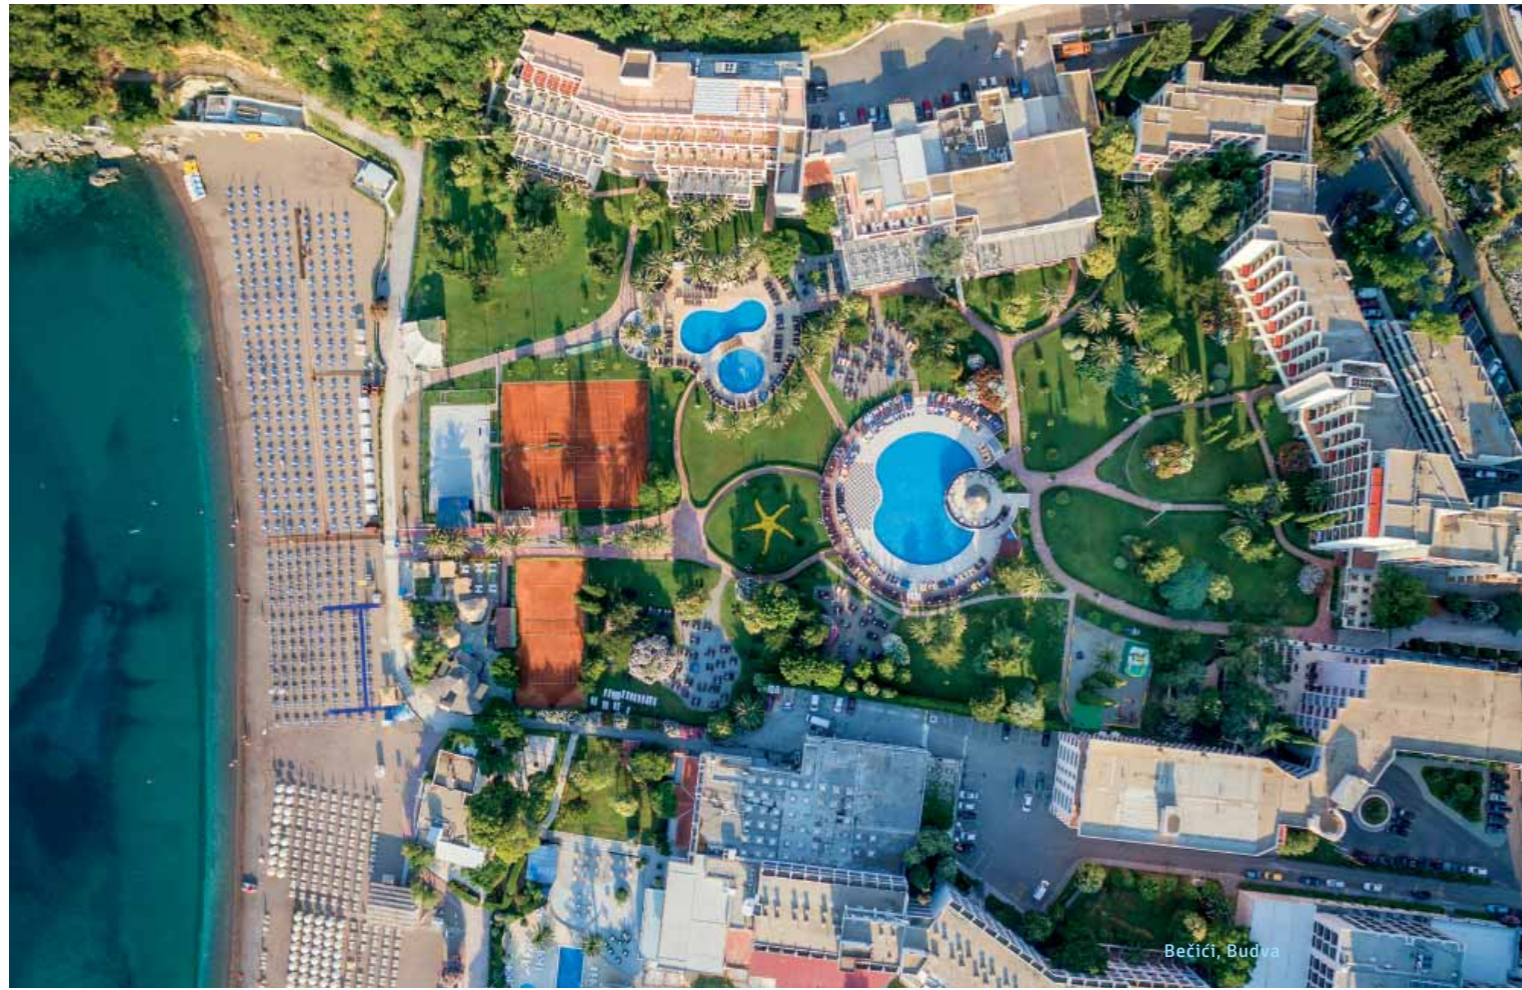

Montenegrians are good and generous hosts. When expecting a guest, according to an old time custom, as a sign of hospitality they open wide the door or the gate. They offer to the guest the best food and drink they have in the house, reserve for him the best place at table and do their best to make his stay in their home as comfortable as possible. There is also a wide range of bars, cafes and clubs. Throughout the year, Montenegro offers many cultural events – concerts, festivals, theatres, and exhibitions can be enjoyed in all major Montenegrin cities.

Transport

Means of transport you are going to use are less important – once you arrive in Montenegro, nothing is far away or inaccessible any more.

Anything is possible – in the morning you can be on the top of the mountain, in the afternoon you can sail on the lake and in the end of the day you can be on the sea shore.

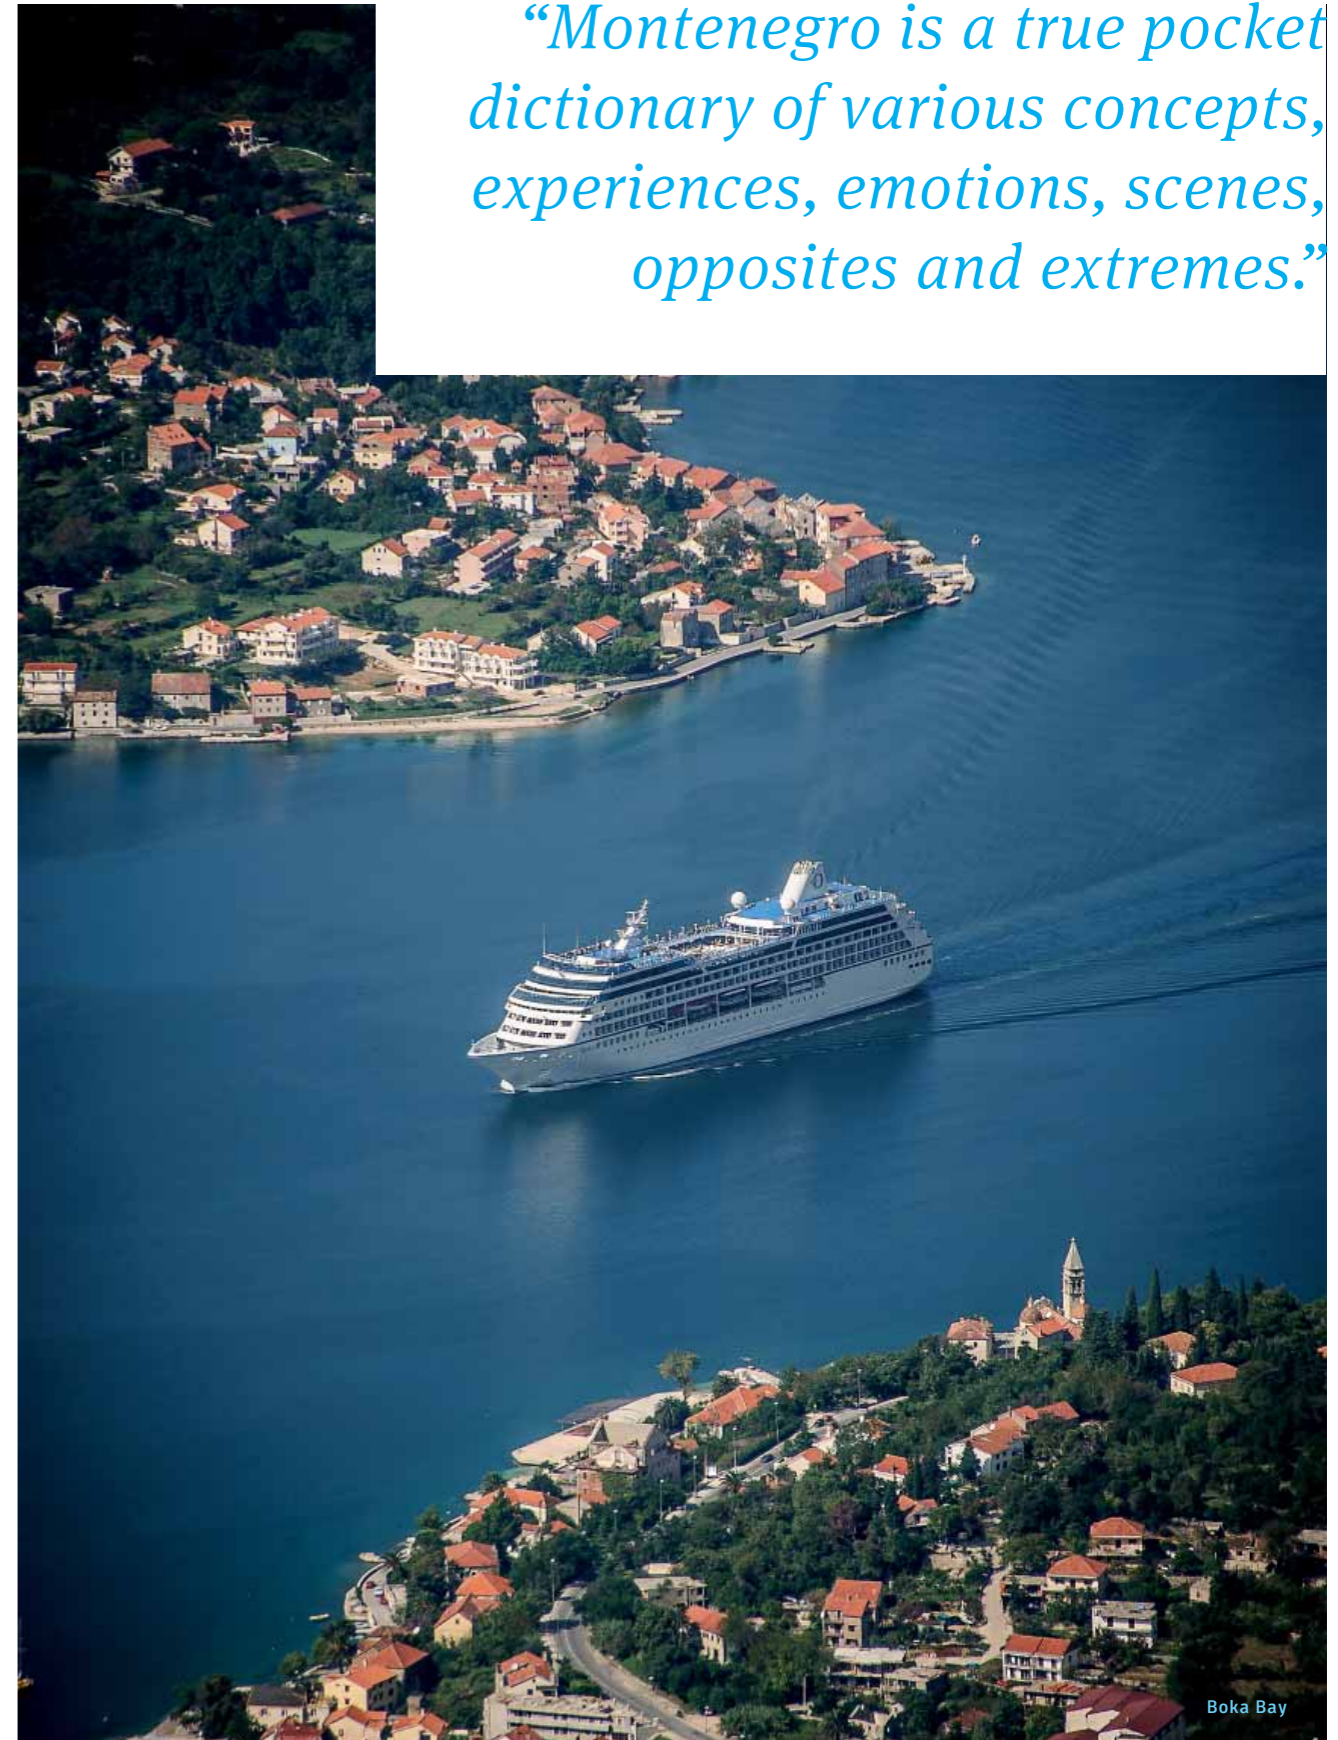

You can get to Montenegro by all the means of transport at any time and in every season by land, sea or air: by plane, boat, yacht, train, bicycle and car.

Airports, Sea Transport, Buses and Railways

It takes only two hours to get to Montenegro from most of the European capitals. There are two international airports – in Podgorica (12 km from the city) and Tivat (4 km from the city center). Companies which regularly fly to the airports of Montenegro are the following: Montenegro Airlines, Air Serbia, Adria Airways, Aeroflot, Turkish Airlines, Austrian Airways, Alitalia, Ryanair, Wizzair, Smartwings, Easyjet and in summer months numerous charter companies operate. The ports of Bar, Budva, Kotor and Herceg-Novi have a status of ports for international traffic. For the most beautiful and largest yachts (to 150 meters long) there is Porto Montenegro in Tivat which is a marina with comprehensive services. If you chose to go by bus, you can check schedule, book or simply buy a ticket through service BusTicket4.me – www.busticket4.me For those who travel by car, the roads are good and the sea and high mountains are connected by the Adriatic road and the new road Risan-Žabljak. The fastest way to reach the sea from Podgorica is through the tunnel Sozina. Total length of the roads in Montenegro is 5,277 km. In Montenegro there is no highway, but there are roads with three lanes on some sections. On the other side Montenegro has a significant number of tunnels and bridges on its roads.

Virpazar, Škadarško Lake

Podgorica, capital of Montenegro, has the highest temperatures during the year. Average temperatures are: January 2 to 10°C, August 21 to 32°C. The sea temperature during the summer is 26°C and approximately 14°C in winter. Crkvice – village in Krivošije, on the outskirts of the Mount Orjen in Montenegro. It is the wettest inhabited place in Europe. Crkvice is within the Mediterranean subtropical belt. While summers are hot and sunny, autumn, winter and spring are rainy seasons. A peculiarity of the littoral Dinarids is the precipitation regime as the cities in Orjen receive more precipitation than any others in Europe. Like the monsoon rain it is seasonally distributed, thus November thunderstorms sometimes pour 2000 liters of water in several days, while August is frequently completely dry leading to forest fires. With a maximum discharge of 350 m³/s water one of the biggest karst springs, the Sopot spring, is a remarkable indicator of this seasonality. Most of the time it is inactive but after heavy rain a remarkable waterfall appears 20 m above the Bay of Kotor.

Žabljak – small town is in the centre of the Durmitor mountain region and with an altitude of 1,456 metres, it is the highest situated town on the Balkans. Žabljak is centre of Montenegro’s mountain tourism. The entire area of Durmitor mountain is protected as a national park, and offers great possibilities for both winter and summer mountain tourism.

Žabljak caters for activities such as:

Skiing - Durmitor’s snow cover lasts 120 days per year, with decent slopes such as Savin kuk, Štuoc and Javorovača.

Rafting - the 1300 m deep Tara River canyon is the second deepest in the world, and is listed as a UNESCO world heritage site. Rafting on Tara River is one of the most popular tourist activities in Montenegro.

Mountaineering - Durmitor’s conditions are appropriate for this sport.

Hiking - The surrounding area of the town of Žabljak provides hiking paths.

Among the main tourist attractions of Durmitor are 18 glacier lakes; the biggest and closest to Žabljak being Crno jezero, literally “Black Lake”. Durmitor’s slopes are also becoming increasingly popular among snow-boarders.
